Maths Homework Default

Dear Parent/Guardian,

This is to let you know that your child did not complete the Maths Home Learning Task that was set on the 27/02/23, the deadline for completing the task was 05/03/23. You can find the details of the homework on their Google Classroom.

You can see how much of the home learning has been completed by logging onto your child's Sparx account using their google classroom login details. The expectation is that 100% of every homework task is completed, including the times tables section.

The gaps that are identified from the weekly homework that teachers set for students are addressed during their Maths lessons in the following week. We are confident that this blended learning style will help with supporting your child with making good progress in Maths.

As a consequence of missing this deadline for the completion of this homework, your child will be completing a subject detention with me this week, the exact date and time of the detention will be communicated in lesson.

I will appreciate it if you can discuss the importance of completing home learning tasks with your child. It is expected that the missing piece of work is completed.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you wish to do so.

Kind regards,

Miss Clancy
