Year 9 form group changes

Dear Parent/Carer

This letter is to notify you that as of Monday 15th January, there will be changes made to your child's form group. Teaching groups will remain unaffected. Following the feedback from form tutors last term and the concerns that were expressed over their commitment to learning during form time, we feel it is best to change their current form group mid year. This will give them a chance to get back on track.

Their new form group also gives them the opportunity to start again with different students around them. It is important to note, the intention of this move is to see an improvement in your child's attitude to learning during form time. Please avoid suggesting to them that this change is not a good thing. We will review this again at the end of the academic year.

If you have any questions regarding these changes, please do not hesitate to get in contact. Please remember that academic reports are being sent home towards the end of the next half term. This will give you a clearer picture as to how they are doing in other areas.

Yours faithfully
